Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 to 3, 5, 6, 9, 10, 13 to 18, 21, 23 to 26, 29 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Farnworth et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,620,731).

Farnworth et al. show all aspects of the instant invention (e.g. Figures 1) including:

- ❖ Forming a bond-pad 18 on a die 10 said bond-pad electrically coupled to integrated circuits (e.g. Figure 6)
- ❖ Forming a redistribution layer 68 (Figures 5) on said die including a conductive line having an attached end to said bond pad and a second end portion 70
- ❖ etching a hole 29 through the first end and bond-pad
- ❖ forming a passage 30 through the die, bond-pad and first end using a laser
- ❖ cleaning the passage (Column 5 Lines 60 to 67) and then applying a passivation layer 32
- ❖ depositing a Ni layer and then an electrically conductive material 34 which extends through and contacts the bond-pad (Column 6 Lines 47 to 61)
- ❖ attaching solder balls 78 (Figure 6)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 4, 7, 8, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Farnworth et al. and Heymer et al. (U.S. Patent No. 3,345,134).

Farnworth et al. show most aspects of the instant invention (Paragraph 2) except for applying TiCl<sub>4</sub> TiN before depositing the Ni layer. The Examiner notes the TiN is a well known barrier layer to prevent diffusion of contaminants from the substrate to combine with conductive layers such as Ni. Heymer et al. teach (Column 7 Lines 42 to 47) that TiCl<sub>4</sub> TiN is deposited when applying TiN to a semiconductor device. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to apply TiCl<sub>4</sub> TiN before the Ni layer as taught by Heymer et al. in the process of Farnworth et al. to prevent diffusion of contaminants from the substrate to combine with conductive layers such as Ni.

5. Claims 11, 12, 22, 27 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Farnworth et al. and Hanaoka et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,667,551).

Farnworth et al. show most aspects of the instant invention (Paragraph 2) except for filling the hole with a passivation material. Hanaoka et al. teach (e.g. Figure 2C) to fill a hole 26 in a bond pad 14 with passivation material 28 to form highly reliable electrical connections (Column 1 Lines 28 to 32). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to fill a hole in a bond pad with passivation material as taught by Hanaoka et al. in the process of Farnworth et al. to form highly reliable electrical connections.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to Claims 1 to 30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

8. Information regarding the status of an application may be obtained from the Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) system.
